U. S. NEWS GROUP NAMED TO COVER
REDUCED FALLOUT DEMONSTRATION

The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Defense today announced the membership of the limited group which will represent the U. S. news media at Berkeley, Calif., and at the Eniwetok Proving Ground this summer during the program to demonstrate for U. N. scientific observers the progress of the United States in reducing the amount of radioactive fallout in proportion to total yield in detonations of nuclear weapons.

A number of foreign news media representatives has been invited by the State Department to attend the demonstration program and an announcement of the composition of this group will be made when all acceptances have been received. The U. S. Information Agency also will have press and radio representatives in attendance.
